1. Fredericton Arts Alliance's 2021 AGM & Call for Interest in Serving on Board on Feb. 18 at 7pm

In a break from past years, this year's AGM will be via Zoom, and will miss the usual beer and pizza refreshments. We apologize for that; blame COVID-19.

There are spaces for three new members to join the board this year. Board work normally involves one monthly board meeting (at present via Zoom) and work on various committees and projects. The FAA has no permanent staff, so board members essentially run all the programs with the exception of the ArtsNEWS, which is ably handled by our contract editor.

COVID-19 has reduced some of our programs, as during pandemic restrictions we cannot run Art in the Schools sessions or Art off the Street with the Shelters. We have, however, continued with the Artists in Residence (virtual and on-line last year) as well as our traditional election forum on arts issues. We anticipate a municipal forum this spring. We also continued our annual fundraiser, albeit as an on-line auction rather than an in-person gala, and may well have to do the same in 2021.

Desirable skills and interests for potential board members might include:

- Strong social media abilities to augment our current efforts;
- An interest in helping with financial issues and in possibly taking over the treasurer's duties in two years when our exceptional treasurer will have served his maximum 8 years;
- Interest in helping develop and maintain our new website.

But beyond that, an interest in the arts and a willingness to collaborate with a great group of board members is paramount. Board members must, of course, be members of the organization (individual memberships are $20). A link to the online meeting will be posted on the FAA website on February 18. Please join us!

Interested? You can get more information and specifics by emailing president@frederictonartsalliance.ca.

2. Theatre UNB presents Into and Punch Up via Live Stream on Feb 4 – 6 & Feb 9-13 at 7:30pm

In a time when we could all use a good laugh, Theatre UNB is presenting a mini-festival of two Canadian comedies: one surreal and poignant, and one dark and hilarious, running in repertory as part of Fredericton's FROSTival 2021.

In Into, four strangers meet when they become stuck in a massive traffic jam on the outskirts of Toronto. As the jam stretches on for days, weeks, and then months, they must overcome their differences, disconnecting from their old lives and building a new society, in order to survive. In Punch Up, Duncan meets Brenda as she is about to commit suicide and strikes a deal with her: if he can make her laugh, she won't kill herself. But Duncan isn't funny, so he kidnaps washed-up comedian Pat Wallace to punch up his material. Will this truly odd couple be able to come up with a routine funny enough to stave off Brenda's date with destiny?

Both plays are directed by Len Falkenstein, with production design by Trent Logan and original music by Devin Rockwell. All performances will be fully staged and live streamed from Memorial Hall with Into on Feb. 4, 6, 10, and 12 and Punch Up running Feb. 5, 9, 11, and 13.

7. Gallery on Queen presents DiasporArt: Online Photo Exhibition by Gary Weekes on Feb. 13 at 2pm

Gallery on Queen is proud to present their inaugural exhibition in celebration of the Black History Month 2021, hosted by the New Brunswick Black Artists Alliance (NBBAA). The NBBAA is a non-profit organization that works tirelessly to give voice to those forgotten NB Black Artists and to nurture, promote and protect all future Black Artists.

Fredericton-based photographer Gary Weekes' work covers many different photographic disciplines; from inanimate objects to portraiture, maintaining an emphasis on quality with a sensitivity to his clients' needs. This sensitivity is born from living in the cosmopolitan cities of London and New York, to his finally settling in New Brunswick. This exhibition celebrates Weekes' Black identity in Canada, his upbringing in the UK, the ten years spent in the USA and his constantly changing role as a father to three amazing young women. He stands proudly as a creative individual who does not follow the stereotypical boundaries placed on Black artists. His art is a reflection of himself; his likes, dislikes, loves, hates, and his ability (or inability) to initiate dialogue.

8. David Myles at The Playhouse on Feb 13 & 14 at 7:30pm

Local favourite David Myles grew up in Fredericton surrounded by musicians. He has dedicated his life to music and symbolized his devotion to the craft by promising his father, Jim Myles, that he'd wear a suit and tie every single day he went to work. Inspired by the classic sounds of Elvis, Roy Orbison, Willie Nelson, and Johnny Cash, Myles can now be seen in his signature well-tailored suits on every stage he performs. Having released a dozen records in just over a decade, Myles has built a musical catalogue that spans numerous genres. This toe-tapping show will be the perfect night out for any local music lover.

Tickets for David Myles are $46 regular and $23 for students, and are available at the Playhouse Box Office in person or by calling 458-8344. For more information, visit <https://www.theplayhouse.ca/event/david-myles/>. Back to top.

9. W. Stewart MacNutt Memorial Lecture 2021: A Region of Feeling on Feb. 16 at 7pm online

Please join the Faculty of Arts for the annual W. Stewart MacNutt Memorial Lecture, A Region of Feeling: Bringing the History of Emotions to Political Economy in Atlantic Canada. The lecture will be given by historian Dr. Shirley Tillotson, professor emeritus at Dalhousie University and University of King's College. Please join us for this live online event at unb.ca/macnutt.

Atlantic Canada's historiography mixes the cool scientific voice of political economy with a mix of other rhetorical tones: righteous anger, elegiac affection, and grief and resentment. Shirley Tillotson asks whether the study of the region might benefit from developing a history of the emotions of regionalism along with its political economy. To illustrate, she presents new research on Nova Scotia's West Indies trade and its relationship to the fraught topic of slavery. Join us to think about what the history of emotions might bring to the classic topics in Atlantic Canada history and what fresh research areas it might inspire. Back to top.

11. York Sunbury Historical Society Black History Month Speaker Series, Feb. 18 & 25, 7pm via Zoom

In recognition of Black History Month, the York Sunbury Historical Society virtual speaker series will feature two presentations on the important contributions of Black New Brunswickers to both the legal profession and military.

The remarkable life of Abraham Beverly Walker, the first Canadian-born Black lawyer, will be the focus of the first presentation featuring historian Peter Little. Little is the author of Abraham Beverly Walker's biography. His book follows Walker's incredible life story from his beginnings in Kars, NB and his struggle for justice in the face of racism and discrimination. Due in large part to Little's efforts, Walker was posthumously awarded the Order of New Brunswick in 2019.

The second event in the Black History month series tells the compelling stories of Fredericton's Black soldiers serving in the Great War, 1914-1918. Featuring UNB PhD student Katelyn Steiva, the presentation will explore the real-life stories behind these soldiers, who they were, where, and in what capacity they served during the War. It will also address what role race played in shaping their wartime service and experiences.

These live events are free of charge and will be held via Zoom. The presentations will be recorded and made available online. For the Zoom link, contact: frederictonregionmuseum@gmail.com or visit <http://www.frederictonregionmuseum.com> and <https://www.facebook.com/FrederictonRegionMuseum>. ### 13. Theatre New Brunswick presents the Stage Equality Initiative

Following the success of its inaugural Fall Festival of New Plays which championed the voices of 12 new, emerging, and established New Brunswick playwrights by providing mentorship, dramaturgy and staged readings of new work through various digital technologies, TNB has now announced the Stage Equality Initiative, a new program aimed specifically at developing new work from New Brunswick female playwrights. The 2021 Stage Equality Initiative will support the work of Samaqani Cocahq-Natalie Sappier (Tobique First Nation), Jena McLean (Fredericton), and Kirsten Alter (Quispamsis).

The Stage Equality Initiative will mark TNB's first major investment in the development of new work by New Brunswick women. This new initiative will provide a creation grant to each participating playwright as well as dramaturgical support and a digital strategy aimed at elevating these three women and their work to a national audience through readings, video interviews and other digital means.

This project was supported through a $12,000 grant from the Greater Saint John Community Foundation and the Fund for Gender Equality (Community Foundations of Canada). The Fund for Gender Equality (The Fund) was created to shift power into the hands of women, girls, Two-Spirit and gender-diverse individuals by supporting their leadership and engagement in community-level initiatives. Learn about the playwrights involved in this new initiative: <https://www.tnb.nb.ca/introducing-the-stage-equality-initiative/>. Back to top.

Auditions | Call for Artist Submissions & Awards

1. Applications Open: City of Fredericton 2021 Arts, Culture & Heritage Grants

Deadline: Friday, February 12, 2021 at 4:30pm

The Arts, Culture and Heritage Funding Program of the City of Fredericton is designed to encourage new projects or activities in the creative arts, culture and heritage sectors through the provision of small grants to eligible organizations. Grants are awarded through a jury process.

Due to the pandemic and the likelihood that, for most of 2021, provincial safety guidelines will remain the same as 2020, additional guidelines and criteria will be applied to the 2021 Arts, Culture & Heritage Funding program. This is meant to encourage applications for new projects which will ensure arts and cultural vibrancy in 2021, while also avoiding funds being tied up for projects that have an uncertain capacity for delivery in 2021. Organizations are advised to keep this in mind as applications will be evaluated with these additional criteria.

The application and guidelines can be found on the city website: <https://www.fredericton.ca/en/city-hall/grants-awards/grants>. Questions may be directed to 471-3378 or culture@fredericton.ca. Back to top.

Connexion ARC is putting out a call to early/mid-career artists for a collaborative program entitled Connexion Exchange, which pairs eight established and eight emerging or mid-career artists for a 3-month mentorship. ## 5. Call for Artists: Lo-Fi Cross-Cultural Creation Residency

This year's residency will be a return to the roots of creation, bringing ten artists together in Kouchibouguac National Park to create art in a low-technology setting. The paid residency, which will take place from May 31 to June 9, 2021, is now accepting applications for artists of any discipline who are interested in leaving their high-tech set up behind and spending ten days surrounded by the beauty of New Brunswick's Acadian Coast.

Ten artists will be selected: three Anglophone artists, three Francophone artists, and three Indigenous artists, as well as one jury's choice. Artists of all disciplines are welcome to apply as long as their proposed work fits within the limitations of the setting (no ultra-high-tech setups that need the internet and multiple plug-ins).

Applications are open until Friday, February 26, 2021. For more information, and to apply, head to: www.artslinknb.com, <https://www.mawiart.org/> or <http://www.aaapnb.ca/>. The residency is a collaboration between ArtsLink NB, the Association acadienne des artistes professionnel.le.s du Nouveau Brunswick (AAAPNB), and Mawi'Art: Wabanaki Artist Collective. #### 14. Applications Open: Sheila Hugh Mackay Foundation Strathbutler Award

Application Deadline: May 31, 2021.

The Sheila Hugh Mackay Foundation recognizes the vital importance of visual art in the cultural fabric of New Brunswick through a juried award program. The Strathbutler Award was inaugurated in 1991 to celebrate an individual artist whose career in visual art has been marked by excellence. Since the first recipient, John Hooper, twenty-five remarkable artists from a wide variety of visual art disciplines have been selected by independent juries, as creative leaders and thinkers who have made a profound impact on the province of New Brunswick. The artistic legacy of each Strathbutler artist is testament to the lives and concerns of New Brunswick people.

The Strathbutler Award, currently valued at $25,000, is symbolized by Manu Forti, a symbolic dirk emblematic of the Mackay family crest designed and hand crafted by master metalsmith, Brigitte Clavette. The 2021 nomination/application process to select the next Strathbutler artist is officially open. Details can be found at <https://sheilahughmackay.ca/how-to-apply/>. Back to top.
