1. Fredericton Arts Alliance Summer Residencies present Katrina Slade from Jul. 11-17

Katrina Slade is creating an immersive and interactive art installation, a hanging tent-like structure to be set up inside Connexion-ARC at the Charlotte Street Arts Centre. It's a seven-month project scheduled for completion in October and will be the focus of her summer residency through the Fredericton Arts Alliance. Guests will be able to enter the tent, which is illuminated from within, and see their reflections in mirrors on the walls. The tent itself will be constructed from ten-foot chains, intertwined with LED lights and hung with "weathergrams.", which are small slips of paper with short poems or notes written on them.

The weathergrams will feature messages of hope and kindness, "offering goodwill to visitors," Slade explains. Participants in the exhibition will be invited to write and hang their own weathergrams, adding an interactive element and keeping the installation fresh. Slade's piece draws on the theme of the 2021 Fredericton Arts Alliance residencies: Looking Inward; Looking Outward. Details on visiting Slade's installation will be released in August when her pop-up event begins. She intends to open the exhibition for several days, following COVID-19 safety protocols.

Slade is a third-generation interdisciplinary visual artist with a mission to promote kindness and activate compassion. She earned a BFA and MA in her home state of Oregon before living internationally in Japan, South Korea, and Germany for a decade. In 2018, she immigrated to Canada and now lives in Fredericton. She will document her work on this piece during her week-long residency with the FAA. Using photos, time lapses, and vlog-style videos, she will share her progress on a daily basis.

Gary Crosby began exploring woodworking when he was deployed with the Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) to West Germany in 1984. He studied the craft with local carvers and would continue to do so around the world for over 30 years afterwards. Since departing from the CAF, Gary designs and wood-carves full time. Areas he explores in his art include climate change, wildlife, ecological diversity, architectural carvings, garden and functional art, as well as epoxy and carving art. During the residency, Gary will explore the connection between humans and our ecosystems with white cedar post carvings, and he will host live-streams online.

Somayeh (Somi) Soltanizadeh is a textile artist originally from Isfahan, Iran, who works with knitting, crocheting, embroidery, beadwork, and fashion design. Since coming to Canada, Somayeh has further developed her craft in fashion creation that she traditionally learned from her mother. She creates handbags using unique fabrics and patterns. 9. Beaverbrook Art Gallery presents Sculpture Songs

Maybe you've seen Fredericton's fabulous public art, but have you heard it? Sculpture Songs creates an enhanced experience of public sculpture and promotes original music by students at Leo Hayes High School and Fredericton High School. Students researched a selection of sculptures and learned techniques for creating ekphrastic compositions. Eke means to seek out, and Phrasis means to phrase. This is what composers do when they create ekphrastic music about visual art!

How do you translate visual art into sound? Check out the interviews with the young composers on Sculpturesongs.com. We are so proud of to share these songs all summer long. Use your phone to scan the QR code on location or on the map, or listen to the music anytime by visiting the website or visiting sculpturesongsfredericton.bandcamp.com/. Maps are available at City Hall and various locations. Back to top.

The Fredericton Arts Alliance gratefully acknowledges the financial support it receives for ARTSnews from the City of Fredericton

The Fredericton Arts Alliance gratefully appreciates the support of the Sheila Hugh Mackay Foundation in our efforts to use new technology to bring the arts to a wider audience during this period of isolation. We hope this investment will pay off long into the future when we will again be able to interact directly.
